Section 1.0 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introduction

Golden History Museums (“GHM”) is a division of the Department of Parks and Recreation of the City of Golden Colorado. On behalf of the City, Golden History Museums manages a unique cultural system that provides a comprehensive and varied history experience across three locations. Golden History Center is home to GHM’s permanent and changing exhibits, public program space, and staff offices. Astor House once served as one of Golden’s first hotels and boarding houses. Built in 1867, Astor House offers visitors an immersive hands-on experience that tells the story of the building’s residents. Clear Creek History Park is a three-acre landscape that's home to a half dozen historic structures from nearby Golden Gate Canyon. The park tells the story of the hearty individuals who eked out a living in this inhospitable area and illustrates the important role the canyons played in linking the gold mining districts to Golden and the world beyond.

As part of its fundraising tradition and as a beloved service to museum members, residents, and visitors GHM has been producing a bluegrass music festival for the past 19 years and is now seeking to outsource the production, promotion, logistics, sponsorship, solicitations and all functions required to produce future festivals (“Festival” hereafter).

1.2 Mission

Mission of Golden History Museums

The mission of GHM is to engage and inspire visitors by preserving and sharing Golden’s history.

1.3 The Golden Demographic

Candidates when applying should consider that the Festival needs to a greater extent speak to the Golden and Denver Metro populations.

According to a demographic profile published at http://datausa.io/profile/geo/golden-co, Golden attracts a young, active, affluent audience with a median age of 30.8. The 2014 median household income is $58,630, which is above the national average. The largest share of property values for owner-RFP Festival/Event/Concert Production Firm occupied housing units in Golden, CO fall within the $500k-$750k range, while the median property value is $353,600, far above the national, state, and county figures. United States Census Bureau data indicate that 53.5% of Golden residents have a bachelor’s degree or higher.

Our own survey data from a recent Golden Music Festival indicate that 60% of attendees have at least a college or technical degree, with an additional 35% of attendees holding a post-graduate degree. The same survey indicates that 39% of festival-goers are from Golden, and 44% are from the Denver metro area. A little more than a third of GMF attendees are age 18-35, with about the same percentage aged 36-55.

Section 2.0 RFP OVERVIEW

2.1 RFP Objective

The City of Golden, Colorado, (the “City”) through GHM, is seeking a qualified festival/event/concert production firm to further develop, grow, manage, and produce the Festival.

The main objectives of this RFP are to:

• increase sponsorship contribution and aim to make the Festival financially self-sustainable,

• completely outsource all event-related logistics, tasks, marketing, promotion, and labor,

• increase overall attendance of residents and visitors alike, and

• increase recognition of and affinity for Golden History Museums.

GHM will consider proposals of collaborative efforts between multiple companies as long as there is one lead contact.

2.2 Golden Music Festival

History

RFP Festival/Event/Concert Production Firm

The Golden Music Festival started as a free single-day concert in June 1997 called Summer Solstice Celebration. It has grown in popularity and stature and is now a three-day bluegrass festival that raises much-needed funds for Golden History Museums. 2016 will be the 20th year of the event. As many as 1,700 concert-goers have attended over an entire weekend.

Since becoming a three-day event in 2013, three bands have performed on Friday and Saturday evenings beginning at 6 pm, with a final three bands performing on Sunday morning starting at 11 am. Each band’s performance lasts about an hour. As many as 1,200 have been in attendance on Saturday alone. Tickets range from $10 in advance for members to $15 in advance for non-members to $20 at the gate. A three-day pass has been $30 for the last two years.

Performances are on a rustic, permanent, 15.5-square-foot stage with electrical outlets. Neither sound nor lighting equipment are owned by the City or GHM or installed at the stage. Performers routinely rave about the unique creek-side setting and the energy of the crowd. Many acts have played for two or more years, and requests to perform outnumber the actual number of selected bands by as many as five-fold.

As an outdoor event, robust attendance relies on good weather. As such, two-thirds of tickets are purchased at the gate. The remaining tickets are sold up to five weeks in advance. In 2015, ticket sales accounted for over half of the gross revenue, while about one-fourth of gross revenue was from beer sales. The remainder came from corporate sponsorships, vendor and booth fees, and ad sales in the printed festival program. In-kind contributions of printing, marketing and advertising support were valued at nearly $30,000 in that same year, not including the significant value of 185 hours donated by a total of 53 volunteers (in exchange for Festival tickets).

Moving forward

While the Festival has always been held in June and has become an expected and beloved part of a Golden summer for many attendees, it need not necessarily remain as it has been. Additionally, expansion of the event to additional weekends in the same month or other months in the form of a series may be possible. Also, while the duration of music has always been between three and five hours on each day, depending on the year, it may be possible to increase (or shorten) the length of the event on one or more days.

GHM has secured an arrangement for reduced pricing on beer from local brewery MillerCoors for a three-year period ending in 2017. The agreement is potentially renewable beyond that year and also has a cash sponsorship component. A new partnership with the Golden Transcript newspaper was implemented in 2016 to outsource ad sales and program printing and distribution. This is valued at over $10,000 with a wide distribution of full-color printed programs to thousands of subscribers in both Golden and Wheat Ridge, as well as 5,000 copies for GHM to distribute to targeted locations, including the actual festival. This partnership will be evaluated at the conclusion of the 2016 Festival.

2.3 Needs Assessment

- GHM seeks a strategic, creative and passionate firm for this partnership.

- GHM further desires a firm that has broad event experience, not just with concerts, but also with community events, to be able to create a wholesome, family-oriented experience surrounding the Festival. The best firm would be future-thinking in regard to leveraging the appeal of all GHM properties to potentially propose future events that would serve the GHM mission.

- The winning candidate will have a proven ability to grow an event, an understanding of long-term planning, and the ability to raise sponsorship funds and attract new and returning sponsors.

- Experience of working with a public agency or governmental entity is a plus.

2.4 Timeframe

The Successful Proposer will take over the Festival in 2016 for the 2017 season.

Section 3.0 SCOPE OF WORK

The Successful Proposer will provide all services necessary to create a successful Festival. GHM expects the Successful Proposer to execute the Festival independently with no reliance on GHM for labor. However, GHM reserves the right to have input on the overall strategy and will assist in outreach to stakeholders as may be necessary. Additionally, GHM reserves the right to refuse to work with any partners, vendors, or sponsors that may reflect negatively on the organization or the Festival.

- Guest safety plan, including provisions for crowd control, park capacity, emergency services, severe weather, etc...
- Event enhancements/additions such as gateway experiences, pre-post show events; educational and instrument-playing clinics as are found at similar festivals; and possible coordination with community groups

2) Develop a budget for the Festival.

3) Create a sponsorship package and solicitation program.

4) Coordinate all aspects of Festival, including, but not limited to:

- Talent identification, booking, contracting and coordination as required

- Coordination and contracting of food vendors, beverage vendors, retailers, etc.
- Coordination of actual performance production (stage, sound, lights, artist riders, sponsor signage, etc.)
- Coordinate venue load-in and load-out, event set-up and breakdown
- Coordination of proper permitting with City of Golden and Jefferson County
- Engaging of staff/personnel/volunteers/security/police/fire as may be required for the event
